

Steve Stanley, Executive Director
Montgomery County Transportation Improvement District

Summary

Steve Stanley has been the Executive Director of the Montgomery County Transportation Improvement District since its formation in 2001. His 35 years of government affairs and economic development experience in the public, private and non-profit sectors includes serving as the Director of Community & Economic Development for Montgomery County, Vice-President of Danis Environmental Management, and Executive Director of the Hocking/Athens/Perry Community Action Agency.

Professional and Community Involvement

Previously a board member and officer of the Ohio Conference of Community Development, County Corp, the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, the Dayton Contemporary Dance Company, the Montgomery County Arts & Cultural District, WDPR/Dayton Public Radio, and the Miami Valley Arts Council.

Currently serving as a board member of the Homeless Solutions and the Dayton Metropolitan Housing Authority.

Personal

BA in Speech and Theatre. Graduate study in Communication Theory and Contemporary European Philosophy.

Married with two children.

Former life-long, die-hard Cleveland Browns fan. Now reports that years of therapy have allowed him to be at peace with the knowledge that the Browns will not make the playoffs in his lifetime, let alone the Super Bowl.